

SCHOLAR

- Draft up a letter for the boy to take to his teacher. The teacher should be allowed several weeks to make sure that the boy is fulfilling this responsibility. Then, the teacher can sign off on it - or refuse to sign it! Make sure that the boy understands. (req. #1, 2)
- Visit the Principal. This is great for the boys to see this office. Leave the Principal a "plaque" with the Webelos den emblem, or a printed certificate in an inexpensive frame. Discuss the value of an education (careers, opportunities) with the Principal. (req. #3)
- Make a chart showing how the school system is run. Do this outdoors on the driveway and use sidewalk chalk. Each boy draws a square. That's them and their family. Then one boy draws a square above the first - that's their teacher. Who is their teacher's boss, and so on. Ultimately, you will have the School Board, and then their parents hiring the school board (on elections). So their parents are over everything. WOW.
- Attend a local PTA meeting or School Board meeting
- Play Schoolmaster and conduct an oral quiz on Scout Lore. Try quizzing the boys on the Scout Badge, Uniform, or U.S. Flag.
- Check with local schools to see if they have any old textbooks (20-30 years old) for the boys to look at.
